Notebook N°24 - Through giving, emerges the gift & Question of circumstance

For the ordinary human's being's spirit, the true gift, in the meaning of the action of giving without any compensation, is a concept nearly impossible to understand.

The ordinary human being does not know what a gift is. He is afraid to give. And as he is unaware of the esoteric gift's strength, he has never been able to learn, nor understand that "through giving", emerges all gift.

The one who possesses any gift, in the meaning of an astonishing talent to know how to read the series of synchronicities in his own existence and to be able to have faith in this reading, has already learnt to give in some sort of way, in other words to develop his gift. He is already aware of the "powers" involving the art of giving and the magic that is due to it. A gift is the talent of an individual in knowing how to modify some elements in his reality, in order to realign the circumstances of his human experience, not anymore to the Service of the Self, but towards the one of the Service to Others.

Therefore the talent of giving represents the tendency of an individual, in knowing how to modulate the gravitation laws in 3rd density. Because this individual will have understood how to dive himself into the potential of his choice, as these potentials are already registered in antimatter. They therefore represent the different possibilities of reality that the human's being's spirit chooses, in order to experience the reality of the worlds of matter.

And through doing the experience, we deduced that the one who sincerely wants to learn to give, has first to learn how to receive. The gift of receiving, just like the talent of giving, is an essential art of the Service to Others.

And "seen" by the intelligences of the superior densities, the art of giving, is the one that has the most consequences in the man's path towards the Service to Others, as it is precisely this art of giving, in other words "the art of the gift of the Self", which has propelled these "intelligences" in the worlds of the Service to Others.

On the other hand, in the worlds of the Service to the Self, hoarding, accumulating, amassing, saving, setting aside, in other words “keeping the most possible for yourself”, are, let's be very clear, compulsive behaviours profoundly anchored in the functioning of our supposedly modern and advanced, but deeply unbalanced and sick capitalist societies.

All of us can verify it daily. These habits linked to the excess of saving-hoarding, are instinctive behaviours that only come under reactions owned by squirrels, these small animals provided with a consciousness of 2nd density and who inhabit our forests.

The modern man, so-called civilised, has never been able to extricate himself from his fear of lack, as his “money” god, the tempter that governs our world, scrupulously watches that the ordinary humans, his army of primitive slaves, do not want for nothing !

And this is where the Cassiopean’s statement takes on its full meaning. Were they not right by underlining : “There is no free meal in the universe. And if someone thinks the contrary, it is because his name is on the menu !”

The individual who decides to orientate his soul towards the Service to Others, has from now on got to get his brain back on track to learn how to perceive beyond the veil. It is only through learning how to give, to share or to offer, that he can receive the information that would be useful to him to make his spirit grow.

Therefore learning to give does not only mean giving money, offering presents or gifts to someone, to give means giving everything, as well as giving of your Self. The gift of the Self implies in dedicating all of your time to others, to consecrate all of your time on sharing the information. The gift is not a sacrifice, but it becomes an art which leads towards the worlds of 4th density of the Service to Others. It is the first art, the true essence of a christ.

The one who can understand the art of giving, will happen to see his creativity develop itself because through the practice of giving - under whatever form that it can be -, he will naturally develop his capacity in establishing more “upright and honest” synaptic connections, a direct result of his practice of giving.

Is it a coincidence if the art of giving is considered in the Satya yoga ?

Questioned about the thorny gift subject, the Angel had communicated to us :

Giving is an art, a powerful form of devotion to the human and to the creation. The art of giving therefore does not only mean giving money or any presents or gifts, but it refers to a personal commitment to offer and to share relevant and objective information. Art in which, within the LEO Network, even if some have already perceived its initiatory power, most amongst you all are still in the learning process stage.

To give can also mean offering information that could be useful to the path of one other. In that case, information can be considered like love. By creating, then reinforcing your tribal unity, you exchange love between yourselves.

As the one who offers a true information, in the way that he has lived it within his deepest inner self, offers his love to an other, who him, will only be able to be in full possession of its alchemical power, through the only condition of being prepared to receive without any prerequisites.

Physics lets you know that information is conveyed through waves (the energy, photons, electrons, quarks...). Therefore information is also "light", in order that light, information and love, are synonyms.

Lets take your current world. There only subsists very few love, because there reigns a real confusion of the information. There is no more true love, nor true light, as the dark forces have got the upper hand in the reality of your world. Even those who believe to be "love and light" are "obscured" by their own confusions, their own illusion, symptoms of a flagrant absence of knowledge. These types of individuals are completely unaware of the forces which manipulate them.

Very few people could still congratulate themselves of sharing objective and verified information through their own experiences. In your society, what the ordinary human mistakes with information, are only distorted and misleading news, therefore without any big significance, even useless for the evolution of the human's being's spirit.

These information or let us be clear about it, the fake news that you can read in the media, are information which are distorted up to 95%. On the other hand of objective reality, these fake news are generally only shaped ploys by some ideology. Information is therefore rarely objective and reveals at the best, only printed pictures on the first curtain and that the ordinary humans take for reality.

Fake news push sneaky methods of mental manipulation coordinated to a superior level of reality. Many clues come to push the idea that the goal of this manipulation, is to create a mental and social chaos sufficiently important in order to make it possible for the establishment of an orwellian-like and totalitarian government which, obviously, would be required and cheered by the population ordinarily being ignorant of the "realities" which govern your world.

But through the work that you supply on the LEO Network, you are like a lighthouse in the storm. And the few authors publishing these pages, would be the ones feeding it in energy

Question to the Angel :

We were talking about gifts and alchemical capacities which are attributed to the gesture of giving. What would be the principal lesson to draw from the act of giving ?

Most of the people will never realise the monumental work which involves your commitment. They will never measure all of its value. Because of this, the ordinary readers will therefore only think very rarely to offer some compensation in return of your involvement.

While it would be completely honest that those who make the most of the teaching offered by the LEO Network, offer something according to their resources. Those who understand that it is crucial to balance their own energy with the energy flow supplied through your work, will apply themselves to it.

And maybe that the ones who are currently meeting difficulties with the art of giving, will finally notice that by never offering anything in order to “balance their own reality”, they do not receive anything.

It would therefore be legitimate that, through a way or another, you would be compensated for all the time and efforts that you deploy to inform the readers. As they should understand the necessity of balancing the energy flow resulting from everything you give. One day, those who will understand, will finally realise that they were only profiteers and parasites.

Nothing is free in the universe ! Most people will never admit it. Unfortunately, many might end by understanding it when it will be too late.

The Cassiopeans had said :

R : [...] The individuals who still believe that they can obtain something for nothing, will see themselves blocked.

Q : (L) Through which way ? What do you mean by “blocked” ?

R : Under two forms essentially : for the STO candidates, the blockage can happen through the subconscious which knows that there is a loss of balance. For the “others” it is only that they are not on the right frequency to receive. Remember the “ability of receiving” and also of the possibility. [...]

[...] R : In the current circumstances with so many people in need, and the system that often reduces their means and therefore their capacity to move and to compensate you from your time and from your energy, (giving some money), it is for the moment the best solution. Some will see their creativity develop itself and their capacity in setting up more direct connexions as the result of their practice !

Q : (L) Why do you say “their capacity of compensating me for my time” ?

R : We have already talked about the necessity of balancing the energy. It is right that you adapt the availability of this programme to the pay capacities of each and one another. But all must remember that it is STO to GIVE EVERYTHING [the board turns on the tray] to the ones who ask. You have given everything SEVERAL TIMES and many still do not understand the value nor give any compensation in return. Those who have difficulties with the programme can notice that they do not give “everything”. And this does not always mean money. This also can mean a commitment.

[...] It will be at least an opportunity for the people to give to receive something, without any intermediary. [...]

This being said, individuals who could easily pay a strong sum of money in order to support your work, even if they were billionaires and that it would be a trifle for their budget, would not obtain much in return, as they would not have acquired, nor even integrated the art of giving. As the one who gives in these conditions, even a lot, in order to buy the salvation of his soul, can only hinder himself.

Like paradise, the soul's salvation can not be bought, as it is about giving from your Self to manage towards it. (About this, see the Dialogue with our Angel n°21 : The Paradise can not be bought anymore... & When the masks fall)

However, the one who gives money to participate in organising your alchemical school - because he recognises your work's value -, already does a first step to remove himself from the prison kept by the henchmen of the money god.

It is also about giving according to your capacities. For the most penniless, circulating your written works, sharing their own experiences on the LEO Network, or giving a symbolic coin, would be proof of their commitment. Whereas the most rich people, will only have to find the impulse to give, according to what their own consciousness dictates them to do.

Therefore the true gift comes from a deep impetus from the soul. However the ones who do not have a soul, obviously, can not make the experience of the gift's alchemical power.

Moreover, in your modern capitalist society reigned by the money god, a free donation is nearly considered as an offence. Whereas cheating, swindling, diverting..., manoeuvres which escape to the official control system, has become your world's challenge and motivation.

As it is the predators themselves who, by inventing capitalism, control the money's energy flow. All of this because they ignore absolutely everything of the creative force of the true human. Him only can understand that instead of thinking of collecting and hoarding, he should first learn how to give everything. The true humans of the future, will have given body and soul for others.

Question to the Angel :

We are well aware that most people are very afraid when they are finding themselves facing their own possibility of awakening. So be it ! But is it because some of them start despite this to go beyond their fears, when they incorporate the experiences described on the LEO Network, that it had been specified to us that eyes were observing us ?

The entities of the superior worlds are watching you. Eyes observe you continually, as for the STS, like for us, the way how your humanity resists to its awakening, is a curiosity. Human beings resist with all of their strength to the change which is offered to them. And more than three quarters of the planet's population, jump in feet first in the game of the STS's operators and swallow all of their lies without frowning.

You are very few to be able to distinguish the other chasm's side which brings you into opposition with the rest of the world or to be able to discern "the tricks" carefully created by the operators. Because the deceits that they offer to the human being, are so colossal that it is difficult for him to seize from it just what would be a potential overview.

Your world, being in a cycle's ending of 3rd density, is on the edge of its implosion and nearly nobody pays attention to it. And it is not by trying again to protect it, that it will change something. Absolutely nothing will reverse the machine on the way and will warn the extinction of current humanity.

Furthermore, all these movements for ecology or to save the planet are absolutely unnatural, even dangerous for the human souls. Because the supposedly modern man is called, not to erect himself as a saviour of the planet, but to elevate his consciousness in order to be able to change his density of reality. However, very few individuals can accept to hear this.

Moreover, even if everybody willingly participates to it, the stupidity of all these movements for ecology and the vanity of all the people who support this idea, are really subversive. To the point where even those who stay deeply ignorant of the hyper-dimensional game which undermines your human society and because of their sufficiency and of their unfathomable lack of discernment, are to be considered such as criminals.

Would it have to remind them again that the objective of all of this confusion, is the manipulation and the control of humanity ? Most humans are so arrogant, that it is very difficult to conceive a society more sunked in the lies and more in prey to the blindness than yours.

In the order of things, the procedure towards this exit, the change after chaos, is so masterfully short-circuited by the predators/STS operators who would want to establish the New World Order according to their own plan and with their own technology, that nearly nobody understand what is happening on your planet.

Question to the Angel :

What pushes people to this point to deprive themselves of their own possibility of change ?

In the worlds of the Service to the Self, the pyramidal control system and possessions (money, power and property) are the “dangerous privileges” which trap the human being in 3rd density. However, the one who understands how to liberate himself of this pyramidal control system and of his dependence on money, will also free himself of his own prison.

Why can we confirm this ?

It must be known that all of those who are at the bottom of the pyramid - therefore most of people -, have nobody to take to. In order that in the current chaos, they continue to get submerged gradually by the superior level, until the summit, the last level (represented by the elites of your world - authority) where everything always finishes to get self-destructed. Can you not already guess how this world will end ?

Example of a pyramidal system which takes action in our 3rd density reality.

Whereas in the world of the Service to Others - your future -, the keyword is “give”. Because if individuals would unite themselves to other STO individuals to give, everybody would receive, as there would not be anybody at the bottom of the pyramid, nor at the summit anymore.

Finally, everyone would end by serving his neighbour or somebody else, as the guiding principle of the Service to Others is the gift’s intention. The principle which rules over the Service to Others’ logic is therefore Intention.

Intention is an impulsion emerged from the subconscious, this means coming from “the future”. As in the future 4th density’s humanity, society will not be built over a pyramidal system anymore. It will function within a circle through a perfect collegial balance, and in which no one will be missing anything.

And it is this way of functioning which, after chaos, will be offered to the earthlings who will have succeeded their transition. The changes of an anthropocosmic nature will decontaminate the planet earth from all the human, humanoid or non-human parasite spirits, that are driving themselves back towards the terminus.

Therefore, very few are the ones who really understand that the events that are currently happening on Earth, are from a cosmic order and are to take much more seriously than politics or wars.

And like the NWO’s luciferian motto claims it : Ordo Ab Chaos - the order emerges from chaos -, this chaos conceived by the climatic and geological disruptions, should let emerge a natural and spontaneous process, in order to come back to a new balance of things. This natural process would lead itself towards a major change of density.

However, the change which the New World Order’s psychopathic elite would like to impose to humanity, is absolutely not natural. It is artificial, antinomic, in contradiction to the laws of the universe and wants to be forced through technology. But sooner or later, and be sure of that, nature will take back her rights again.

In the meanwhile, observe how soon the weather conditions will “coldly” devastate the ordinary humans’ lives. (See the SOTT summaries concerning the extreme weather conditions : <https://www.resealeo.com/médiathèque-1/changements-terrestres-vidéos-sott/>)

Question to the Angel :

We realise much too often, that by starting an objective conversation on some subjects, individuals who seem to show a certain open-mindedness, close themselves up abruptly like oysters. To the point where we have sometimes noticed that some probably provoked congruences, would let them be able to call an end or to remove themselves from the conversation.

Would it really be a coincidence if for example a hailstorm would suddenly start to fall, or that a car would stop at that exact moment, therefore interrupting our conversation ?

Coincidence does not exist ! Their subconscious calls for hyper-dimensional interference. People rarely want to hear the truth, as it is difficult for them to renounce the games of power and money, and to the rational ideas which support them.

Therefore the easiest way to ignore the truth, is to eliminate the messenger or to prevent him from speaking. Awakening yourself to reality, daring to open the eyes and to drag yourself out from the comfortable cave of illusion, is a very painful process. And naturally, when someone amongst the sleeping population manages to escape himself from this "reptilian matrix", he becomes the worst enemy of those who are still sleeping and who are unaware of the possibility of exiting their prison.

Therefore, you are the sleepers' worst enemies, but you also are the ones of the STS entities of 4th density who risk to lose their food.

The matrix of the Service to the Self weaved by the superior STS entities, is the ultimate trap for the human's consciousness. And when it does not understand nor recognise the game, the human soul is obliged to incarnate itself again in 3rd density, as long as it remains unaware of all this.

Very few individuals are capable of perceiving this reptilian matrix, however some manage to guess the outlines. But understanding it is absolutely not easy for the billions of people living on your planet. This is even nearly impossible ! Remember how ignorant you still were a few years ago.

Most people do not appreciate much that shocking events disrupt their prejudices which in definitive, are only soft illusions.

As a matter of fact, you are closely watched by the 4th density beings, as you are becoming a curiosity. But you are also spied, controlled, by your society's institutions, as you are starting to understand how to pass under the radar of the corpus' operators.

You have been controlled by the police officers and the General Information Service. Themselves, despite their information "professionalism", are unaware of the trans-dimensional reality which rules over your world. Not being attentive to their deep nature, they absolutely do not know that they are not serving the right master. Therefore, they do not ever serve their soul.

Therefore their mission consists quite simply in watching the people's peace who, like them, prefer to continue to sleep. These agents of the law enforcement do not realise that they are only pawns used by the masters of illusion, in order to always steal more dreams to always more people.

As most of the people who are at the bottom of the pyramid, them too, have nearly nobody to whom to take to. However, they watch for those that they serve that they always stay wealthy. In order that even if they are part of the state's executive's body, they stay their devoted emissaries amongst the population. This is why, them too, get "absorbed" by the superior level.

The system is designed in this way. From step to step, everybody gets "absorbed" until the summit, where everything disappears, and where the pyramid finishes by destroying itself.

Yet for the moment, people are scared of the people who offer change and who are not afraid of change. But you already know that to change of temporal line and start to "magnetise" your future reality, you had to reveal the ethics and the honesty which brings all of you to life.

As you might notice it in your relationships with the "ordinary human", the ignorant man soaks himself of the virtual world which he creates for himself. This world, in other words his circle of primitive friends, the mind-numbing television programmes or the internet websites for the feeble-minded, only reinforce the world's perception in which he takes part of and that he has determined himself. Therefore very little is the information which would let him be able to change his world's tight vision. Therefore also very rare are the precious testimonies capable of changing his life.

Whereas establishing the genetic tribal unity - your work's goal -, requests a deep insight, a spirit's freedom in comparison to the conventions and a total fearlessness, in order to get to demolish the illusions and make the predators' suspicious eyes drop. As still very few people are the individuals who are capable of demonstrating, in a detached way, the hidden slavery of the human type.

As the Cassiopeans also say, what you reveal about the world's situation, is so far of the idea accepted by most people about its subject, that the analysis and information which you offer, always meet with huge resistances.

The most important obstacle, is that ordinary people do not have a clue in the way of how this information is delivered to you. They are totally unaware that those who commit themselves on this learning's path, could be able to develop their genetic and their gift in order to manage it themselves.

But, to think that it would mean to get attached to a tenacious work for a couple of years based on thinking, investigating, observing, making links between each other..., in order to develop new neuronal connexions, does not interest them at all ! Most of them prefer to keep their primitive spirit, in order to be able to stay snuggled in their comfortable illusion.

Obviously, every investigation which respects itself, should bring proof. But at this searching level, proofs only appear in the information's cross referencing. In your 3rd density world, working with intuition, stays unacceptable for the ordinary human strongly locked up in the mental prison.

Also, revealing that there exists other dimensions to your existence, different from the simple matter state, unveiling the camouflage operations about the UFOs subjects, or even rummaging through the trans-dimensional realities as well as in the meanders of the human's being's psyche, requests to be extremely perceptive and courageous.

In your work, despite gullibility in the conception of things and despite what people can think about it, most information which you release is credible, even often verifiable.

This being said, these other dimensions of the human's being's existence, whether you name them : other plans, other realities or other densities, do not have any importance. Despite the fact that it is about the most important aspect of your existence, these so-called spiritual plans, are realities that the conventional mind thinking and the "official culture" do not recognise, as the latter is itself distorted by hyper-dimensional entities.

Humanity is physically, psychologically and spiritually manipulated by other races that you know as the "Reptilians or Saurians from Orion". People who consider themselves "awakened" should now know it and take account from it.

Your very impartial and objective way of talking about the reptilian predators, brings you slowly but surely to free yourselves from their psychological influence, therefore putting them back at their right place.

As even if they can easily manipulate the space-time and the weather, they continue to control the "Greys", who are humanoids who have stayed trapped in these technological worlds of 4th density towards the Service of the Self and through this, have become their principal intercessors with the human species. This 4th density of the Service to the Self in which are trapped the "Greys", is in a narrow relationship with their state of consciousness, a state of "entropy" which obviously, can therefore only manifest a constraint reality in their own dimension of existence.

The reptilian predators are capable of manipulating the ordinary man and control him exactly how you do it with livestock. But it is not because they live in a superior state of consciousness than yours, that they are more intelligent or that they have a more evolved ethical code.

Some of them - the negative STSs - as they are without any emotional, have stayed heartless predators. Others - the positive STSs - are more sort of nice demons that still find themselves in pursuing the experience of the Being to the Service of the Self.

For the moment, humanity also, still remains in experimenting the Service to the Self (STS). But amongst it, missionaries already learn to experience the Service to Others. And it is this "vocation" of the Service to Others, which is absolutely not understood by the ordinary human still at the Service of his small Self.

Other galactic populations live in a state of Being of the Service to Others (STO). It is the case of the Cassiopeans, the Pleiadeans or the Leonins (the LEOs, your servants and instructors) who inhabit the 6th density.

But is it still necessary to remind you, that in the capacity of 4th density Beings, the reptilian corpus is already capable of many things ? These galactic predators will use everything they've got in order to divert you from your path.

Remember also that they can appear in your reality under nearly whatever aspect, taking the shape of a passer-by, the appearance of a resident of your village or sometimes even, a familiar animal. As they are dependent on you being food for them, at the same time psychological, spiritual and physical food. They raise and train you within your existence, like livestock. They have built your political and religious systems. Therefore it is very important to understand that they have created you as their own image.

Question to the Angel :

Does a possibility exist in order for all of humanity, to one day free itself from the reptilian influence ?

Ouspensky (about Gurdjef's teachings) said :

"The modern man lives in sleep. Born in sleep, he dies in sleep. [...]"

These two states of consciousness, sleep and state of wakefulness, are as subjective one and the other. It is only by starting to remember himself, that the human being can really start to awaken himself. Around him all of life therefore takes another aspect and a different meaning. He sees it as a life made of sleeping people, a life of sleep. Everything that people say, everything that they do, they say it and do it in sleep. Nothing of all this can therefore have the lowest value. Only awakening and what brings to awakening has a real value. [...]

[...] When he will have understood that he does not remember himself and that the recall of the self means an awakening, until a certain extent, and, when he will have seen through experience how difficult it is to remember his own self, then he will therefore understand that to awaken himself it is not enough to only be guided by the desire of it. [...]

[...] From his deepest childhood, the pads have started to develop and to reinforce themselves inside himself, removing from him progressively all possibility to be able to see his interior contradictions; for him, as a result, there is not the least danger of a sudden awakening.

Awakening is only possible for those who search for it, who want it, and who are ready to fight with themselves, to work on themselves, for a very long time and with perseverance to obtain it. To this end, the “pads” must absolutely be destroyed, that means going to meet all of the interior sufferings, which are linked to the sensation of contradictions. Moreover, the “pads”’ destruction demands itself a very long work, and the man has to agree to this work, by understanding correctly that his consciousness’ awakening will be for him accompanied by all of the unimaginable discomforts and pains.”

The ordinary man is not ready to awaken himself. This freedom is not the order of the day, as in order to accomplish a real spiritual liberation, humanity should free itself from all of the aspects of the reptilian influence which are only oppressions and servitude. And the only way of reaching it is to manage to modify its genetic itself.

And to control the 3rd density, the abduction phenomenons form one of the mechanisms through which the predators control you. By pushing the “Greys”, these other entities of their creation, to proceed to most of the abduction’s operations, they therefore rarely intervene in the heart of the reality of your 3rd density.

The predator corpus is located in 4th density, which effectively means that their operations happen in an invisible reality - so-called “spiritual” or judged “without existence” for the human’s being’s consciousness. But the 4th density of reality contains dimensions just as physical as yours. The 3rd density is only in keeping with the almost same reproduction, in which the reptilian entities are erased from it.

This means that the changes that are happening in the reality of the 4th density, are simply copied in the programmes of the peoples’ souls of 3rd density. In the same way that chips or implants inserted in 4th density, become functional in 3rd density. That is for this reason that more than half of the planet’s population, jump in feet first in their game and believe their lies.

But although the situation of the current humanity in its matrix-prison stays very sinister, it is not hopeless. As the knowledge of the reptilian reality which, finally simply defines your true reality, is the key of your liberation ! What is at the top is like what is at the bottom...

You have chosen to live in a dangerous world, bad, much more sinister than what people are aware of. However, there exists a path towards peace. It consists in becoming aware of the nature of the reality in which you live.

Your work is very difficult. Persevere ! And guided by your Superior Self, you will soon notice that it is largely worth the efforts which you agree to in order to reach it.
