

CHRONICLE N°21

The Pleiadian, Cassiopaeian and Leonine networks: their unified messages for humanity
& Allo Papa Tango Charlie, please respond, we are searching for you!<sup>1</sup>

What would distinguish the Cassiopaeian, Pleiadian, Arcturian transmissions, from those of the Leonins? We are convinced that there are no truly objective answers to this question, except maybe that they could be linked to the perception – not to say the ego – of all the individuals to whom these transcripts are addressed.

Thus, there wouldn't be one, but many reasons for the particularities of their operational modes. Whether they are Cassiopaeian, Arcturian, Pleiadian, Leonine or others, these hyperdimensional intelligences, who transmit their teachings by riding the frequencies of the Wave, each have their particularity: they all are missioned! Each of them forms a center of thought coming from a same group of galactic consciousnesses, that can be composed of different intelligence forces and life forms that, sometimes indeed, present themselves as reptilian, simian, leonine, humanoid or other.

So, to transmit their precious information to humanity, maybe are they only using more and more modern “telephone booths”, which would not be restricted to communications via channeling or ouija boards anymore, but would also reveal themselves through the consciousness of some inspired individuals, who restate on a computer keyboard what they already know as being thoughts from higher planes?

We know that among the global population, the true seekers of Knowledge are not numerous. Yet certain are sometimes more inclined to accept the information provided by one or other of these sources, according to their own ability to discern, their sensibility and their open-mindedness.

By linking all this data and adding their hallmarks, would the Leonine transmissions not be those which would gather and reunify everyone? Since there is not one single truth! It can be everywhere at once, yet sometimes too, where nobody is seeking it!

Among the transmissions of particular interest to us, since they are part of our references, we identify those resulting of the work initiated by Don Elkins and his group in 1962 and leading to the “Ra Material” (“The Law of One”) in 1981. Their works were translated into French much later. Then, from 1969 to 2003, Bernard de Montréal also bequeathed many teachings to humanity, like Gurdjieff, afterwards Ouspensky and some others had done, during the previous century.

Although they are atemporal, the true esoteric or spiritual teachings still are not of great interest to a lot of people. Nevertheless, Laura Knight-Jadczyk, initiator of “The Cassiopaeon Experiment”, was harshly attacked, criticized, even humiliated, probably because the value of her work and of her team exceeded the research of many others. Yet would that be the right or the only reason?

We know from experience that relaying information coming from higher sources takes a lot of work, focus and presence. Especially if it disturbs our well-established academic dogmas. Often exhausted by their “mission”, the LEOs also experience it every day.

It is true that the field of “supra-transmissions” establishes a thick fog that is very difficult to pierce if we want to discover some consistencies. To our knowledge and if we were to remain objective, we keep noting that most of the countless French “channels” have remained victims of “the esotericism of the Service to Self”, which very rarely brings a true “reflection material”. Even if there is certain progress for some, then, why do most of them just repeat so-called messages of beings of light, which would be more like MK programming? The question still remains open! Yet finally, it is quite logical that the so-called “love and light” teachings are still well established; otherwise, how could we exercise our discernment?

In the area of mystery which we are now interested in, we could also ask ourselves the following question: why had Laura Knight-Jadczyk been guided by the Cassiopaeans (C’s) to leave Florida, in the USA, to recreate an “esoteric” research team far from “her native land”, in the South of France?

Her current drop-off point in the “langue d’oc”<sup>2</sup> region (Languedoc, country of the Cathars, then of the Cagots Semite initiates), is only 164 km as the crow flies from the LEOs. And despite the small distance between us, we never met.

In the transmission of the 30th of October, 2021, the C’s had told Laura that:

Q: [...] (Learner) In which places of Europe and the rest of the Western world is it most likely that people will wake up, network and help each other while facing ever tightening screws of Covid and other tyranny, black-outs, earth changes, etc.?

A: Pockets in many places.

Q: (L) There will be pockets in many places.

[...]

(Joe) Laura? When the C’s kind of advised you to move to France, did they not know that Florida was gonna be the last bastion of freedom 20 years later?

(L) I think they knew that other things were coming.

A: This work would not have survived and thrived there.

<https://cassiopaea.org/forum/threads/session-30-october-2021.51253/>

<sup>2</sup> The words “langue”, meaning “language”, and “d’Oc”, referring to the Occitan language, compose the name of Languedoc, a region of the South of France.

Thus, would it not be because of the initiates' genetic memories of the Languedoc region who have at all times succeeded in getting out of the inquisitorial oppression, that her work could only prosper more in France?

The alchemical Great Work of Laura Knight-Jadczyk was probably able to expand thanks to the vibratory resonances coming from the memories of these Semite initiates, that were imbued in this region and of whom souls, able to overcome their psychic limitation, had transcended time.

Would it not be here the true meaning of her research, which was to reveal this well-known enclave of initiates in the Pyrenees and that she could retrieve among others things through her Jewish/Semitic or Cagot memories?

It might be also that the barrier of the language is one of the guises which temporarily undermines the realization of our common objective, since apart from two or three people in our team who practice it a bit, we do not speak, read and even less master English to the point of being able to communicate with her group, or chat on their forum. So, even if the French translations of the Cassiopaeian transcripts are almost carried out as they are published, we had little idea of the context in which these communications were organized.

So we gradually learned about the work of the team of the Château, thanks to the books translated into French from The Wave collection, published by "Pilule Rouge". Then, more recently, through the different volumes entitled The Cassiopaea Experiment Transcripts (that we have just acquired) and which were annotated only retrospectively for their hard copy publications. Thus, it is only recently that we became aware of the true chronology of this "Experiment" led by the team of the Château, but we also understood why we were not supposed to meet yet!

Things are admirably well organized. Indeed, "if" the language barrier did not exist, compelling us to accomplish our work through our own research in order to experiment its conclusions ourselves, most people of our team may have tried to register on the Cassiopaea forum; and the LEO group may never have been born! Yet life is not made with "ifs"! Thus, even though the team of the Château would have been warned by the C's that STO orientated individuals are living not far from them, why didn't they dig deeper into this information? Once again, things are masterfully well organized! ...

Unlike their research team, our mission has very little to do with historical and scientific research, which invite to explore the world outside of oneSELF and often require to establish proofs, cross references or make objective observations. Basically, investigations asking a huge analytic capacity by the left brain, that of correct vocabulary, objectivity and "science", knowing that the latter anyway remains a finite and sometimes rather simplistic vision of Knowledge! Although our task, probably just as psychically challenging, would rather appeal to feelings, intuition, emotions, to the intuitive perception (the instinct) of this Knowledge and finally to the abilities of the right brain, the one of “Con-science<sup>3</sup>”!

Indeed, gifted to explore the worlds of energy, the psychic worlds and the worlds of ancestral predators, the right temporal lobe of the brain (the emotion’s and feminine’s one) would gradually see the increase of its activity, stimulated by the Wave and the cometary viral loads! Leading to an accelerated genetics modification and many more coincidences and circumstances resulting from this “acceleration”, which generally remain difficult to perceive for the non-initiate to this Knowledge.

This acceleration also influences the psyche, that is to say our “new way” of understanding things. While keeping the link with our present reality, it sometimes gives us the ability to connect to other timelines overlapping in our present time, giving us more and more frequently the feeling of losing our mind and our bearings, yet thereby, allowing us to travel in the universe of the geneticist entities, creators of worlds. We do not hesitate to qualify as shamanic this inner journey that man fears so much! Carefully rebalanced by the functions of the global brain, its continual practice is generally “reserved” for the initiates. Thus, we would probably start becoming qualified enough to explore “the genetic configurations”, the energy resonances of each other, and their implications in the arrangement of these resulting time/consciousness lines.

For the moment yet, few people in the world are likely to conceive the energetic implication of this kind of psychic work, and would even less be sincerely able to accept to see and understand its consequences in the world. Since its implementation demands us a deep balance of the inner Self, which most humans are still not ready to discover and even less to accept, as they lack such mastery. Achieving to overcome the resistances of the “human ego” – we witness it every moment – is not at all that easy!

Laura Knight-Jadczyk even pointed out that this work with the principle of the psychic mirror (the psychomanteum), very difficult to implement, could discourage more than one. And for good reason! This mechanism of quantum observation of the inner Self, in which we would have some notions, consists in deploying our consciousness allowing us to “travel” on other time lines and to detect the predatory psychic entities which parasitize our mind. Entities of which ordinary humanity, no matter what we say and believe, remains invariably a victim.

<sup>3</sup> The “consciousness” or “conscience” is composed of the words “con”, meaning the woman’s genitals, which refers to the feminine energy/intuition, and “science”.

At the foot of the “ascending Christ”, Mary Magdalene, blindfolded, but with her psychic mirror, contemplates her Self (or inner Self)!
Wood carving, hermitage of Galamus (Aude region)

The consequences of the quantum mirror phenomenon – sometimes more or less illustrated in some tales such as those of Lewis Carroll, “Alice in Wonderland”, “Through the Looking-Glass”, or the film “The Chronicles of Narnia” adapted from the work of C. S. Lewis – are sorts of initiations to understand the parallel realities, which should be studied, developed, then handled with a lot of tact and caution.

So we had to remain careful while exploring these other worlds, since among other things, they confronted us with the nature of reptilian worlds and especially with the existence of these well-known Lizzies that Laura and her team probably didn't consider enough, qualifying all of them, indiscriminately, of STS predators; although we are aware that among these reptilian lineages, some life planners individuals are in the Service to Others.

Maybe because Laura and her team were not yet willing to confirm this hypothesis, since it could awaken painful karmic memories coming from their transdimensional existences in their group? Or perhaps they feared that these revelations might invalidate their scientific investigations? We are well aware that our memories support and build the image of ourselves in the present. Yet we also understood, from experience, that the memories of the past time (karma) locked us in a future which is even more refracting.

It is therefore not possible to build our new future without reviewing our “different” versions of the “past”, even if they may sometimes not please us. Humans are programmed to believe that their past is gone and that they can’t choose their future. Their linear and restricted view of the flow of time, therefore of their consciousness, would prevent them from fulfilling their mission of time travelers and from being able to “return” to what they once were! Would this not be precisely one of the faculties so much occulted by the human psyche, which these Lizzies traveling on the Wave also possess?

Hence, their narrow conception of time would take their consciousness in any direction, but rarely towards their “new future”, which could also be a new past, yet that would also require the resolution of these temporal loops!

What was, is, and will be, will be new, also affirmed the Cassiopaeans! And they are right!

Then, it would be because of the very limited concept of time – which is nothing more than a human dogma – that the creation process of the ordinary humanity remains very limited, even entropic. But it would also be thoughts coming from minds endowed with a higher consciousness, that could make the physicality of our next reality more and more variable and selective; as it is already the case with the worlds of reptilians, humans and other entities in 4th density realities. Thus, we have started to explore them and are pursuing our quest of the soul!

Therefore, one had to be a little bit crazy to venture into these extraordinary worlds that the Cartesian human considers as unreal, since he even ignores that his own world is not actually real, if it was not thought, densified by the consciousness of his mind, that is to say by his own thoughts!

This way, when we risked ourselves into these worlds, what was not our astonishment to perceive that these Lizzies are indeed, for most of them, reptilians endowed with the power of psychic manipulation and of metamorphosis. And there is more! Thanks to this feature, those amongst these shape-shifters Lizzies that are still STS, can also look hostile towards humans, when the latter don't use their free-will in order to thwart their attacks by applying Knowledge, and if they persist in ignoring the secret of the psychic mirror. Some reptilian lineages are thus able to take on the appearance that is the most familiar to us and impersonate humans. That is probably one of the reasons why very few people are aware of the reality of their existence and their real physiognomy.

These different lineages of reptilian entities from Orion at the Service to the Self, belligerent or not, could they not be "ourselves" who populate our STS past as well, just like the Arcturians, Pleadians, Cassiopaeans, Leonins and many others, will be "Us" at the Service to Others in the future? Would it not be possible for us to consider that we are carrying at the very heart of our genetics, the "vile and merciful names of God": these two polarities that are opposed in our state of being and that we must manage to bring together within ourselves?

Not all of these hyper-dimensional "gods" would be as malicious towards our civilization, as the very "negative" entities of the Service to the Self of 4th density would make us believe; although amongst the STS caste, some, beginning their progression towards the Service to Others straight through their long cycle in 4th density (that is to say the most "positive" of them), are still "required" to absorb our emotional energy. And if some amongst the latter were creator gods – function to which the human of the future also predestines –, this would indeed mean that both of our worlds are meeting at the 6th level of density STO, the consciousness centre of true humans and other "Kadistu" creators of worlds!

But as the future and the past, "perceived" by the higher consciousnesses, form one and only temporal plane, there would not be any real separation between the souls coming from human planes and those from reptilian planes, if only through the ways they progress into worlds, and their different physical appearance!

Therefore, some groups of researchers would still lack some data, simply because they would be too specialized in their field. The absence of some information would be these splits that separate them from the other investigators. While the LEOs, with their more generalist perspective, would seem to reveal this "missing link", as they would be these first-time experiencers who would centralize all the thought centres of these hyper-dimensional galactic "different lineages", that the human race would reunify in the future. Then, it is precisely the reptilian codes, that each and every one carries during his short cycle of incarnation and that are programmed in all of us, which are behind this division.

It is worth knowing that many of these reptilians, on the verge of extinction, would therefore simply represent, for some of us, our hyper-dimensional "ancestors" of 4th density. And as long as they will linger in the Service to the Self, those will always remain predators for humans of 3rd density. But others will join the "STO" Service to Others' worlds, often thanks to the reincarnation of their soul in a short cycle process, just like the one in which the ordinary human of 3rd density is evolving. (See about that the Chronicle n°19)

Some authors have ventured with more or less success to explore and study the worlds of our reptilian ancestors, that would explain the "Atlantean" karmic charge of current humanity. Anton Parks, a French author, him also being very often attacked and blamed by a horde of detractors, has succeeded in introducing his readership to the vocabulary of what he calls "the celestial bestiary", amongst which are the famous "Urmah galactic Lions". The latter would be these 4th density warriors called to the rescue as a last resort, to rebalance the forces during the great conflicts between the Kadistu lineages, creators and planners of worlds, and the predatory dynasties, destroyers of worlds.

In other words, the "STO galactic community of the past" gathering reptilian geneticists Amasutum, Sutum and other Abgal, Nungal, Sukkal, Ameli, Imdugud, Namlú'u, Urmah strains, had been opposed to the great Anunna galactic families of the STS corpus, which would be also composed of Lizzies and other reptilians and entities of this predatory celestial bestiary that are the Kingú, Miminu, Musgir, Nungal, Sutum, Amasutum, Ušumgal...!

Often even more advanced than the ordinary man, the predatory races, sometimes "non-human" who "perpetually" exist on planes of 4th density of reality, have only one purpose: that of influencing the ignorant individual's thoughts, in order to implant in him frequencies of fear, fright, insecurity, doubt, to feed on the emotional energy that these psychic manipulations arouse in him.

We should then understand that as long as they remain in their current "animal form", some of these STS predatory strains stay hostile towards human. Often also, these "animal" entities envy man and keep the frenetic ambition of developing a body whose shape would approach ours, especially if these races have extensions of themselves in 2nd density, as a familiar animal close to man.

The Cassiopaeans, who are part of the planning lineages of Orion, some of which would have non-humanoid forms, keep repeating that at a higher level there is a conflict between the "STS" and "STO" races. To such an extent that they continually suggest to Laura to explore some of her own karmic frames, and to watch out for the attacks that she herself claims never to happen for free. So, would she not already be aware of some secrets of the 4th density that she would not admit to herself?

As far as we know, though we have not finished to decrypt all of the Cassiopaeon transcriptions, it is very likely that some personal data coming from "her" 4th density would not have been rendered to her. Thus, we might think that she is still ignoring them, but perhaps also, does she have to be careful not to reveal them for now?

Starting from these hypotheses, we would begin to perceive clues that would bring together or balance the levels of transmission of these different hyper-dimensional lineages that are the Arcturians, Pleadians, Cassiopaeans, Leonins, who all willingly avail themselves of a unified thought centre of the future; every one progressing through its extension in our world, with its colour, its information, its vibratory frequencies, and bringing its "matter" to the densification of the human's reality.

This way, we might then have a new piece to add to the exploration of this hyper-dimensional puzzle, as since the beginning of our researches and even before we formed the ECOLEO working group, it often existed on the part of our readership, great confusion about the nature of our work, since a lot of our readers rejected the predatory worlds of the Orion's reptilian Lizzies! And as our investigations go along, these Lizzies will turn out to be daunting psychic predators, our deep intuitions would not have deceived us! We henceforth knew how to unmask them!

This being said, our researches concerns less the material world than the spiritual one, unlike most other investigators of the unexplainable. They are thus way more oriented to the exploration of the "subjective" of the spiritual and invisible worlds, that are accessible only to the pituitary gland and the right brain, contributing more to develop our psychic and sensory capacities. Then indeed, our much more synthetic and generalist research work is not based on any solid scientific principle, but is often confirmed, either by the transmissions from the Pleiadians, Cassiopaeans, from Ra Material, or by sources such as Castaneda, Gurdjieff, Anton Parks, Philippe Guillemant... which cannot always be based on objective bases either.

From what we remember, we heard of the "Cassiopaeen Experiment" around the end of 2014. At that time, we had already understood that if "we" existed in the future under humanoid forms – as the Pleiadians of Orion, the Cassiopaeans of Orion, and other Orions also say –, we for sure existed also in "the past", sometimes under non-human forms. So we could also exist on reptilian time lines, to which we had regular access through multiple experiences, since they did not frighten us and we knew how to "explore" them.

However, a question was still pending! Barbara Marciniak, widely revealing the existence of the Lizzies of Orion in Bringers of the Dawn, why did Laura Knight-Jadczyk remain suspicious towards this information, as she commented in a footnote below the transcript of January the 5th, 1995:

9. Keep in mind that the "Lizards" is a sort of code to designate the STS of 4th density. In the first volume of my book The Secret History, I've explained the entropic nature of that energy that we perceive as "reptilian". The reality of Lizard-type beings has been testified by numerous witnesses – there even are alleged photographic proofs – not to mention the multiple ancient representations. But as I already said, I have never seen any of this, and I tend to think that it could be the result of an interpretative process.

Had the C's not also answered Laura when she asked them the following questions:

Q: (L) And could you tell us what the Lizzies look like?

A: Upright alligators with some humanoid features in face.

Session 4 November 1994

Q: (L) When I had the dream about doing battle with the dragon, was that just a dream, an astral event, or an actual interaction with the Lizzies?

A: All three.

Session 24 November 1994

<https://cassiopaea.org/forum/threads/session-24-november-1994.28382/#post-353162>

And the Pleiadians who, as we now know, are of the same thought center as the Cassiopaeans, state repeatedly in Bringers of the Dawn:

These beings from space are half-human, half reptilian. We call them the "Lizzies" because we like to give all this a tone a bit less emotional, a little more humorous so you don't take them too seriously and that you don't worry too much. We are not here to scare you – we are here to inform you.

Indeed, we know now that some parts of ourselves, sometimes still exist in STS worlds, while others, even some reptilians, have already joined the STO worlds. Then, wouldn't our ancestral parts be those of these Wave travelers that the Cassiopaeans said were also transiting in the Leo constellation?

As for the LEO adventure, it "subjectively" began in January 2016, with a dream that Jenaël shared on the Reseau LEO website.

In short, in his dream, he was accompanied by a group of people and a little boy named Léon who, in his future, once he became an adult, will have changed his name to become Léo. Léo invited them to enter by the seaside into a huge rock behind the wall of which stood several buildings that were the dwellings of different galactic peoples. "Ours" was the "LEO" lions' one. We then discovered that behind these completely transparent walls, stood small buildings and that we were inside one of them. Léo also told us that the neighboring dwellings were those of the Arcturians, Pleiadians, Cassiopaeans... and that ours would become the home of the LEOs, in other words of the Lions who, according to the Cassiopaeans, would indeed represent the "heavenly abode" where would be "localized" the thought center of the LEO tribe.

Would it not be also these leonine souls existing under human form in the future, who transmit from this "new" consciousness center? They would probably also be involved in producing all these changes modifying our daily life and that become already tangible when we pay close attention to them.

These sometimes very singular events which happen in our existence and which would probably already be very perceptible if our human perceptions were not still so reduced, would then be linked to already densified potentialities – sometimes still time-shifted –, thanks to "new levels of awareness and knowledge" that emerge through our work within the LEO tribe.

Then even if the future, or even the past, were to remain open and the time lines could also be desynchronized in the consciousness because of the different “levels of thoughts” that are “carried” by the individuals of our group, we are already observing that we sometimes experience more or less surprising overlays of realities. By the way, these overlaps sometimes lead to very strange situations, that results in some things being true for some, but not always for others.

And on this subject, one of the first times we were able to detect a temporal phenomenon of that type, was when Sand and I were still living at the Bézu. (See Notre histoire). One afternoon in 2012, when we were working on the construction site of the ruin, we had been flown over by two Rafale fighter aircrafts which, because of the roar produced by their jet engines, had engraved a kind of terror print on us.

Before their deafening racket breaking through the silence of the countryside nearly made us have a syncope, the two military planes, flying very low above our heads, rushed straight towards the summit of the Bugarach. It is worth noting that the Geghu, the “hammering Falcon” of the reptilian god Enki, also used this noisy approach tactic to terrorize his enemies.

Shocked and shaking with astonishment, I then shouted: “If only these damn planes could one day disappear!”

The Geghu, Enki’s “hammering Falcon”
On the right: the French army’s Rafale

After these “stupid planes” nearly took away our headgears, two days later, we learnt with amazement that one of them had sunk in the Mediterranean Sea.

Strangely also, still in the Mediterranean Sea, another Rafale accident had already occurred in 2009:

Since that day at the Bézu, we had been flown over by these “doomsday devices”, always at a very low altitude, in 2015 in Cassaignes and a third time again in 2021 on the ÉCOLEO construction site!

At the same time, when we shared on the construction site before activating our “muscular mitochondria”, we talked on several occasions about these planes subjected to the effects of temporal lines crossing.

Funny synchronicity, let's notice the strangeness of the date of the article about the Rafale disappeared at sea in 2012: “Published on 03/07/2012 at 14:26, updated on 01/01/1970 at 01:00”. (Since the writing of this chronicle, the date has been readjusted!)

Extraordinary bug in the matrix: coincidence or not?!

In group, we discussed then the subject of the five Avengers of the “squadron 19” which, taking off from Fort Lauderdale on the East coast of Florida, disappeared in 1945 in the Bermuda triangle. Laura having broached the subject with the Cassiopaeans, I understood that she also had to be aware of the technology that caused the disappearance of these planes! And quite naturally, I remembered the two Rafales fallen into the sea which I had damned at the Bézu.

Although we know that certain thought frequencies can become creative, we also knew that there was (and still is!) a technology that fractioned the universe by amplifying the psitrons (psychic particles of imaginary mass – cf. Adrian Dobbs) emitted by thoughts, in order to transform their “plasmatic” potentials into densified realities.

The Atlanteans were well aware of this technology that used the amplifying properties of the terra-formed silicon quartz in hydrogen worlds. Current humanity already uses terrestrial silicon in computer processors. However, science is not yet aware of the “quantum” problematic possibly raised by the quantum processors technologies, which will drive the Artificial Intelligence of the Earth’s future!

An example of how this quantum technology could operate, is very interesting to observe! Would it not be this latter that would have contributed to the disappearance of the Avengers of the flight 19 in 1945, caused the fatal ditching of the Rafales in 2009, then in 2012, and would have caused the disappearance of many other planes elsewhere in the world?

Question to the Angel:

Is it possible that such technologies exist elsewhere on our planet, for example in the Bugarach region?

Indeed, in the same way that certain humans carry this technology inserted in the form of nano-implants or silicon monitors in their body, the different layers of your planet’s underground are also equipped with this type of technology, but in a global format.

That said, it is not really its exact location that is to be considered, but the effects that it generates and brings to your world. It is not only the pyramids of the Bermuda triangle which are active on the plane of your planet, even though they are the most famous. This technology has also been implanted, for very good reasons, to nearly half of the humans on Earth!

Some of these pyramid-shaped quartz gemstones have been sown by crystals that do not come from your planet. Similar to the oyster in which a grain of sand is inserted for it to develop a pearl, fragments of silica, that developed in an atmosphere much richer in hydrogen, were placed in quartz, sandstone or granite pyramids on Earth.

This technology, beyond understanding for man, generates a division between the thought group of the Service to Self, rather unidirectional, and the one of the thoughts of the Service to Others, which open to all possibilities, more or less in the same way as a light ray is separated in all the colors of the rainbow through a prism.

Unidirectional thoughts - thoughts opening to multiple potentials

And depending on the strength of the thoughts emitted by one group or the other, such or such versions of reality manifest in your world. You should therefore be able to clarify the enigma of the Bermuda triangle, which the Cassiopeans had already talked about, and also clarify certain mysterious causes of the plane accidents flying over the Bugarach, or other “sensitive” points elsewhere in the world.

It was therefore indeed the Atlantean gods, when they were still STS, who installed these technologies breaking and increasing the strength of thoughts of humans. However, because many of these entities have “expurgated” their karmic loops, these technologies are now serving the seeds of the altruistic consciousness of STO humanity. Then, indeed, Laura Knight-Jadczyk knows well the impacts of this technology! However, for the moment, she does not mention it.

And as more and more individuals around the world accept to see this change process, orchestrated by the puppets of world governments at the service of these hyperdimensional entities remained in a mission to the size of their ego, this technology is now used by the new humanity to the Service to Others. And soon, the pilots of the Avengers and of other missing planes, who also benefit from the terrestrial changes and the progress of human consciousness, will be freed from their timeless prison.

Thanks to the vibratory resonance phenomenon of human genetics and to the progression of humanity's global intelligence due to the Wave effects, their consciousness will have also been able to grow! Many of these missing-individuals will then become ambassadors of peace in their new world.

You therefore have to understand that the reality that you perceive is actually a process, a constant movement that sometimes even deforms from an individual to another. And thanks to this technology and nanotechnology, which roughly, only accelerate and support the transition process, thought-forms and actions act nearly instantaneously on the temporal flow and modify the course of time.

Now understanding that time is structured by your thoughts, but that you give way to confusion, you should first think about the "plausibility of evidence" such as you read them in your everyday life, to guess, then understand all the possibilities of temporal realities that they would also raise.

But also observe that if certain uncertainties were solved right away – because the terrestrial "sacrosanct science" was validated by its great hotshots of illusion –, you would not have to think anymore, to search or to try to find dynamic solutions to a problem or a situation. Which would then make you weak and vulnerable, as the phenomenon of reality split would automatically cancel itself to come back to the linearity of time: the trap of 3rd density. For the so-called objectivity of your "so objective" observations, which you define as certainties, gained too much strength in your thoughts, even if thereafter, this latter could sometimes prove to be erroneous or distorted.

As a consequence, the true value of the Pleiadian, Cassiopaeon, Leonine transcriptions and certain other hyperdimensional beings, lies more in the exploration of these research trails concerning the "existing reality", which obviously because of its permanent vibratory nature has always remained in the state of particle chaos, that is to say, potentially outdated realities, as soon as they have been manifested in your reality by your future higher consciousnesses!

In other words, once the different possibilities of reality have been described, this time at the human level in discussions and the networking with each other, they become pre-existing realities in their plasma form, which are then expressed in the multiple dimensions of the universe.

You should then reassess the way you impregnate yourselves with the teachings of the chronicles and notebooks of the Angel, the Cassiopaeian and Pleiadian transcriptions, in order to take into consideration elements such as the degrees of interference in the messages coming from the STS planes, the interference in your own mind, in the readers' one, or in the minds of the participants to the sharings, the question of the free will of each with his individual beliefs, the multiple openings to your future potentials, the parallel realities and probabilities in action etc.

You therefore do not have the right anymore to interpret each other's transdimensional messages, this means to read in a superficial way, or to translate them as it suits you. This because some amongst these messages still maintain the illusion that their "hyperdimensional messengers" respect your free will, and never violate your "beliefs".

It is for this reason that you should all learn to think on the deep meaning of all these transcriptions, whether they are Cassiopaeian, Pleiadian, Leonine or coming from anyone else, by using discernment and good sense. It is therefore stupid to assure that the Cassiopaeians, the Pleiadians or the Leonines are right or wrong in all things.

They are "simply" 4th density missioned beings, who transmit thoughts to you, in the same way that you are commissioned at the 3rd level to participate in the human's awakening, in order for him to accomplish his density change. But you all have somewhat different missions that eventually complement each other, as in the end, the Universe is such a gigantic field of experience, that each of your interactions with it will always reveal the Universe's reason of being.

Also, if you focus on the question of knowing the degree of truth or plagiarism of either, or feed any kind of parochial quarrel, you would all miss out the essential, this means the essence of the deep teaching that all these messages contain in their totality and complementarity.

Question to the Angel:

Is it possible that this same technology is responsible for the rejuvenation process already stated by the Cassiopaeans?

You all assume that you can't become the child you once were. It is simply a mistake due to the arrow of time (<http://etienneklein.fr/1527/>). In your new reality, you will be what you are, and what you have been, you will also be!

And because of the STS matrix that your culture believes in, time flows in the opposite direction of universal reality. You are not going towards your future, but this latter comes towards you. The quantum physicists have succeeded in demonstrating this by observing the spin of antimatter particles that is reversed in relation to matter.

Your past therefore reveals itself as a construction that simply supports the present, in the same way that the future would also support it. But this arrow of time makes you deploy efforts that you maintain to keep you in its coordinates, which are just as conventional as the parallels and meridians drawn on a map of the world.

Your memories build and strengthen an image of yourselves. However, they also lock you in by building a future which retracts more and more. You therefore cannot change your future without an in-depth review of your interpretations of what is already accomplished.

You are educated to believe that the past is unchangeable and that there is still nothing in the future. This vision of linear time prevents you from becoming again what you once were (the child for example, or the reptilian on another plane, or even other multiple forms of life) or from letting yourselves slide as you please in any direction through time/consciousness.

You are already co-creating with your tribe what you call your neo-reality. At the same time, you notice that you are getting more and more confused within it. Know now that this confusion is wonderful! As if you become muddled, disorientated, it is because you are touching from the tip of your toes the reality of 4th density. You become muddled, because you are learning how to be alive. You are disorientated because of your subtle perception of the reality change, which is produced by a no less elusive spin change in matter, starting in your environment.

As the "real" that you perceive, comes from diverse processes which could be described as neurological connections in the individual brains, that are relayed by their resonance with those of other individualities of your group. In other words, you become more and more intelligent when you exchange your ideas. But to share your ideas, you had to learn to think for yourselves again and get out of the unique way of thinking imposed by the STS matrix.

An increased “neurological connectivity” in your tribe can only happen because of the intensity of your research work which, once pooled together, opens on a new perspective of your reality. But if someone was to provide you with the solutions to your researches up front, you would not make the effort to find those solutions by yourselves. Then, if during your trip in the STS matrix you obtain results other than those you expected because of your beliefs, the reality that you discover by yourselves will modify the original model planned by the matrix. It will be modified from the original plan.

An alchemist who will be very little known in the future once said:

“If you want to enjoy the most magnificent journey, you will first have to forget its destination!”
